RES NOVA 1987
(Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law)

MESSAGE TO STUDENTS OF CARDOZO 1987

Dear Graduates:

The class of 1987 receives its diplomas from the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, Yeshiva University, at the end of the eleventh year in the life of this institution. The past decade has seen the evolution of the school of law from a dream in the minds of its founders to an institution that has made significant strides toward meeting its destiny. We believe we have equipped you with the intellectual depth and ethical sensitivity to venture forth to practice an old and honorable profession.

Your own destiny now lies largely in your hands. Whether you wish to devote your knowledge and talents to the world of law firms, public interest concerns, or business opportunities, we hope you build your future cognizant of your responsibilities to humanity. When we chose to name the school of law, we joined with Justice Cardozo in the belief that "The final cause of law is the welfare of society."

As you leave our institution, I offer you my best wishes for brilliant and satisfying careers, and for rich personal lives which will have been enhanced immeasurably by your studies at Cardozo.

Cordially yours,

NORMAN LAMM
President

A classbook is a great monument to the achievements and aspirations of a class. This classbook is a lovely reminder of the eleven years of growth and effort that have created the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law. This is a class that has seen substantial change at the Law School, the maturing of many scholarly and educational trends, the publication of important issues of the Cardozo Law Review, the Arts & Entertainment Law Journal and the Women's Annotated Legal Bibliography. The students in this book have helped the law school as the law school has helped them. There has been a spirit of community that, I hope, will be with our graduates during the days of their career.

Benjamin N. Cardozo, the judge, represents the science of law and the merging of the science of knowledge with a reassertion of moral and ethical standards. The law school is constructed with these scholarly and ethical goals in mind. Let us hope that the next decade helps us realize those goals.

Professor of Law. B.A., 1957, Brooklyn College; J.D., 1961, M.I.A., 1964, Columbia University.

Professor Halberstam is a member of the original faculty of the Law School, having come to Cardozo in 1976 together with Prof. Monrad G. Paulsen, the founding dean, from the University of Virginia, where she was a visiting professor. Previously she was a professor at Loyola University (Los Angeles) (1970-75), and a visiting professor at the University of Southern California (1972-73) and the University of Texas (Summer 1974). Before embarking on an academic career, she held a number of positions in the public and private sectors, including that of assistant district attorney in the Office of Frank S. Hogan (1963-70) and senior attorney for the National Legal Program on Health Problems of the Poor (1969-70). She served as a reporter for the American Law Institute Model Penal Code Project, drafting the new commentary to Article I of the MPC. Professor Halberstam was articles and book reviews editor of the Columbia Law Review, Kent Scholar, Stone Scholar, and recipient of the Jane Marks Murphy Prize. She is an associate in the Columbia University Seminar on Human Rights; a member of Phi Beta Kappa; and on the board of various professional and community organizations, including the International Law Association, American Branch (Executive Committee and Human Rights Committee); American Society on International Law; American Professors for Peace in the Middle East; and Continuing Seminar on Zionist Thought (Steering Committee). She has lectured and published on international law; human rights, women's rights, and criminal justice. She is presently working on a book (with Elizabeth Defeis)—Legal Rights of Women in the U.S.: International Agreements as an Alternative to the E.R.A.? Professor Halberstam spent the 1985-86 academic year in Washington, D.C., as counselor on international law to the U.S. Department of State.

Arthur J. Jacobson

Professor of Law. B.A., 1969, J.D., 1974, Ph.D., 1978, Harvard University.

Professor Jacobson was an associate with the firm of Cleary, Gottlieb, Steen & Hamilton, New York City, from 1975, to 1977. He holds a Ph.D. in government, on the political philosophy of Hegel. His scholarly work has focused on fiduciary obligation and the law of associations. Professor Jacobson's areas of teaching are civil procedure, jurisprudence, and corporate law. He served as associate dean of academic affairs during 1982-83.

Peter Lushing

Professor of Law. B.A., 1962, LL.B., 1965, Columbia University.

Professor Lushing has served in the Legal Aid Society as a trial attorney in the criminal division (1968-72), and in the New York County District Attorney's Office as the administrative assistant district attorney, and as chief of the Appeals Bureau (1974). He has also been an associate with a New York City law firm (1973-74), and individual practitioner specializing in appellate litigation (1975-76). Professor Lushing was notes and comments editor of the Columbia Law Review, Kent Scholar in his first year, and twice a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar. He was law clerk to Judge Wilfred Feinberg of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York (1965) and the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit (1966-67). Currently he is reporter, Eastern District, New York, Criminal Procedure Committee.

Leslie S. Newman

Director of Legal Writing. B.A., M.A., 1975, Brown University; J.D., 1978, Boston University.

Ms. Newman was managing attorney at Greater Boston Legal Services, where she supervised senior staff work, in addition to holding the position of senior attorney for housing, responsible for housing law reform litigation. From 1980 to 1985, Ms. Newman was lead counsel for the plaintiff class of over 50,000 public housing tenants in Boston in a major institutional litigation case against the Boston Housing Authority. She came to Cardozo in 1985 and has served as Summer Institute administrator and worked on various projects, as well as directing the legal writing and most court programs. In addition to her administrative responsibilities, Ms. Newman teaches legal writing, moot court, and supplementary writing.

Richard M. Joel

Associate Dean. B.A., 1972, J.D., 1975, New York University.

After graduating as a Root-Tilden Scholar from New York University School of Law, Dean Joel joined the Bronx District Attorney's Office in 1975. After serving as deputy chief of the Appeals Bureau, he came to Yeshiva University as Director of University Alumni Affairs. In 1980 he became assistant dean at Cardozo School of Law, and has been associate dean since 1982. In addition to his decanal duties, Dean Joel teaches professional responsibility and has taught legal writing and moot court.

Monroe E. Price

Dean Price graduated magna cum laude from Yale, where he was executive editor of the Yale Law Journal. He clerked for United States Supreme Court Associate Justice Potter Stewart and was an assistant to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz. In 1968 he was appointed professor of law at the School of Law of the University of California at Los Angeles. Dean Price has served as deputy director of California Indian Legal Services, was one of the founders of the Native American Rights Fund, and is the author of Law and the American Indian. In the field of communications law, Dean Price was president of California's Foundation for Community Service Cable Television, deputy director of the Sloan Commission on Cable Communications, and is co-author of a treatise on cable television and Cable Television: A Guide to Citizen Action. He was court-appointed referee to monitor the Los Angeles school district's desegregation plan and is on the Board of Directors of the Center for Law and Social Policy, and the Fund for Modern Courts. He is a member of the Mayor's Committee on the Judiciary. Author of numerous scholarly law articles on communications policy, Native American land and water rights, copyright and the arts, and other fields, he was appointed dean of Cardozo in 1982.

James B. Lewis

Visiting Professor of Law. LL.B., 1940, Catholic University of America.

Professor Lewis has been engaged in private practice in the firm of Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison, New York City, of which he became a partner in 1955, specializing in taxation. He has taught on the adjunct faculties of New York University and Rutgers law schools. He has served on the legal staffs of the Treasury Department and the Internal Revenue Service. Professor Lewis has been a consultant to the American Law Institute's federal estate and gift tax and federal income tax projects. He has been chairman of the Section of Taxation, American Bar Association. He is the author of The Estate Tax, now in its fourth edition, and of The Marital Deduction.

Steven S. Nemerson

Associate Professor of Law and Associate Dean. B.A., 1968, Brooklyn College; Ph.D., 1973, City University of New York; J.D., 1976, Columbia University.

Professor Nemerson was a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar at Columbia and notes and comments editor of the Columbia Law Review. While in law school he was a lecturer in the Departments of Philosophy at Brooklyn College and Herbert H. Lehman College. Upon graduation he clerked for Judge Jack B. Weinstein, United States District Court, Eastern District of New York. Before joining the Cardozo faculty in 1981, he served for four years on the University of Minnesota Law School faculty. He has published and lectured in the areas of criminal law and philosophy of law.

David Rudenstine

Professor of Law. B.A., 1963, M.A.T., 1965, Yale University; J.D., 1969, New York University.

Professor Rudenstine, who teaches constitutional law and federal courts, was a fellow in the New York University Arthur Garfield Hays Civil Liberties Program, having spent the two years preceding his entry into law school in Uganda as a Peace Corps volunteer. Professor Rudenstine was a staff attorney in the New York City Legal Services Program from 1969 to 1972, and served as director of the Citizens' Inquiry on Parole and Criminal Justice, Inc., a nonprofit research corporation, from 1972 to 1974. He was counsel to the National News Council until the end of 1974, when he joined the New York Civil Liberties Union, where he served as a project director, associate director, and acting executive director. He has written articles on judicial reform of social institutions, parole, sentencing, and the First Amendment, and is the primary author of Prison Without Walls: Report on New York Parole and sole author of Rights of Ex-Offenders. He has also been a Guggenheim Visiting Fellow at Yale Law School and a participant in a National Endowment for the Humanities Seminar.

Paul M. Shupack

Professor of Law. B.A., 1961, Columbia University; J.D., 1970, University of Chicago.

Professor Shupack graduated from college summa cum laude and cum laude from Chicago. Before entering law school, he did graduate work and was a teaching fellow in government at Harvard University. While in law school, he was a member of the Chicago Law Review and a teaching assistant to Prof. Soia Mentschikoff in a course in jurisprudence. In 1979 he was a visiting professor at University of Chicago Law School. While an associate at Cleary, Gottlieb, Steen & Hamilton, New York City, he taught commercial law as an adjunct professor at University of Connecticut Law School. He is a member of the American Law Institute, and has served as a member of the Committee on Bankruptcy and Corporate Reorganization of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, and now serves on that association's Committee on Uniform State Laws.

Barry C. Scheck

Assistant Professor of Law and Director of Clinical Legal Education. B.S., 1971, Yale University; J.D., M.C.P., 1974, University of California at Berkeley.

After graduating Phi Beta Kappa from Yale and with honors from University of California Law School at Berkeley, Professor Scheck was a staff attorney for four years with the Legal Aid Society of New York. He has served on the faculty of the National Institute of Trial Advocacy and Defense Council, and is co-author of Raising and Litigating Claims of Electronic Surveillance. Professor Scheck is a member of the Committee on the Criminal Courts, Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

Jonathan L.F. Silver

Professor of Law. B.A., 1969, Yale University; J.D., 1973, University of Pennsylvania.

Professor Silver received his law degree cum laude, was a member of the Order of the Coif, and received the Jefferson B. Fordham Award. He was chairman of the Prison Research Council, a student group aiding indigent prisoners. Following graduation, Professor Silver was law clerk to Judge William H. Hastie of the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit (1973-74). He was an associate in law at Columbia University (1974-75), served with the Office of the General Counsel, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (1975), and has done consulting work for the National Academy of Sciences. Professor Silver joined Cardozo's original faculty in 1976.

Westchester Spotlight magazine began publishing ten years ago with one magazine, Spotlight on Rye. Since then, it has developed into six separate community magazines: Northern Westchester, Central Westchester, Sound Shore/Westchester, Connecticut, Rockland/Bergen and Manhattan. Over 350,000 readers from all parts of the tri-state area enjoy the Spotlight family of magazines. The 120-page, four-color, glossy publication is the primary source for local information of restaurants, people, places and events.

For further information about the magazine, please call (914) 381-4740 or write to: 126 Library Lane, Mamaroneck, New York 10543.

Best wishes
Class of 1987

Acknowledgements

A special thank you to Peter Richter, whose photography and ceaseless moral support deserve far more recognition than can be credited here. Also, many thanks to Jonathan Bourne, who, despite bar exam preparation, still managed to submit the many "Joe Smots" scattered throughout the book in select places. Photos on pages 2-9 appear courtesy of Yeshiva University Public Relations.

Bunky
